Excerpt: . . . further alleging that the last will of said Wilson, which has been duly approved, after making certain specific legacies, gave and devised all his estates, real and personal, to his executors, in trust for certain uses, and . c. , and among the legacies was the following: --I give to J. Wood of Belfast, the whole amount, principal and interest, he may owe me at the time of my decease, which is secured to me by mortgage, and I do direct my executors to release said mortgage forever to the said J. Wood, as soon as may be after my decease;--Also further alleging that said bequest was made for the benefit of this plaintiff, and that the name J. Wood, instead of George Wood, was inserted in the will by mistake, and . c. , and that the plaintiff has applied to the executors for a release of the mortgage and a surrender of the notes. Wherefore, and . c. The answer of the executors, alleges their belief that this plaintiff is the person, for whom the said bequest was intended, and that the name of J. Wood was inserted in the will by mistake, instead of George Wood, dcc. ; also that the notes are not needed, for payment of any debts or legacies. Abstract of evidence as agreed to by parties. Nathaniel Wilson, the testator, died in Boston on the day after the execution of his will. Said will was drawn, by...
