Excerpt: . difference, but will find the word of God working effectually in his hearts bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ. Believing in Jesus Christ is expressed in the scriptures by a variety of phrases, as--believing him--receiving him--receiving his word--coming to him--trusting in him looking to him--and many other such figures: all which serve to distinguish that full, and final revelation of the truth and glory of the Gospel, open which men obtain in a right to all the blessings of it, from such a general careless acquaintance. It produces none of those wonderful effects peculiar to the word of the living GOD, which worketh effectually in them that believe. The immediate inseparable effect of believing the gospel, is an acknowledgment of Christ Jesus, and acceptance of him as our only Lord and Savior; joint confidence in him, for deliverance from sin and the wrath to come, and the enjoyment of eternal life, and an hearty resolution to follow and obey him, as his disciples. When we believe and are firm, that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of the living God, the divine glory of his person and character is manifested to the mind: this faith, therefore, must produce love to him who appears so glorious; and in this full view of his righteousness, mercy, and called authority, we cannot but trust our salvation in his hands, and cheerfully submit to his government, grace.
