PUMPKIN S DAY AND CHRISTMAS For the Churchman the result of the war was fraught with consequences almost beyond his hopes. It was with deep joy and thankfulness in the hearts of those who loved her orders and her services that the Rev. Samuel Seabury, duly elected Bishop of Connecticut, set sail to receive consecration for that holy office. It was granted, as it proved, not at the hands of the English bishops, who were prohibited by the English ministry from delegating such power to one who could not swear allegiance to the King, but at the hands of the nonjuring bishops, the Scotch hierarchy at Aberdeen. Seabury s sympathy had not been with the Declaration of Independence. In 1775 he had suffered persecution, arrest, confinement, and destruction of property, and had finally taken refuge in New York, acting as chaplain...
