Reality Writing LLC. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 346 pages. Dimensions: 8.9in. x 6.0in. x 0.9in. Maricopa County Sheriff Joe Arpaio had provided police service to the city of El Mirage, Arizona for approximately 2 years during 2005 to 2007. The self-proclaimed Americas Toughest Sheriff received approximately 2.5 million from El Mirage in exchange for police protection for its residents. Then in late 2007 the city decided to re-organize its own police force. The contract with Sheriff Arpaio's office was terminated and a new El Mirage Police Department was formed. Shortly thereafter, the investigative staff of the new El Mirage began examining the police reports written by the Maricopa County Sheriffs Office during the time when they were in El Mirage. What they uncovered during their audit was unconscionable. Dozens of cases involving homicides, robberies, and sex crimes had been mishandled, neglected or simply ignored by the Maricopa County Sheriffs Office. Most of the sex crimes involved small children. Some of the homicide cases had strong evidence and looked to be solvable but were just never completed. The author provides an inside look at the resulting scandal that rocked the Maricopa County Sheriffs Office. An in-depth review of the crimes...
